DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. In claim 1, the limitation of “a pressure from the rider's seat bone caused by the up and down movement of rider's legs is being taken up in all directions by the cushion layer without the cushion layer losing elasticity” specifically limits the claim to particular part of the human body. Since people come in all different shapes, sizes, abilities, and characteristics, the scope of the claim is unclear. See §101 rejections below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The limitation of “a pressure from the rider's seat bone caused by the up and down movement of rider's legs is being taken up in all directions by the cushion layer without the cushion layer losing elasticity” specifically limits the claim to particular part of the human body. A claim directed to or including within its scope a human being or attributes of a human being is not patentable subject matter. See MPEP §2105 and 1077 OG 24 (April 21, 1987).
